OLD POINT COMFORT,
OLD POINT COMFORT, VA., Dec. IT.—
The chief social ovent of the week was the brilliant reception given by Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard Coko Marshall to the affleers and their families stationed at Fortress Monroe. Lieutenant and Mrs.
Marshall were assisted in receiving by Leutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Potts, Mrs.
McNair, and Miss Illider Booker. Mrs.
Hubbard presided over the punch bowl,
and Mrs. Kimberly and Mrs. Townsley poured coffee. The ladies assisting in receiving were Mrs. Stribling Marshall, of Portsmouth; Mrs. Blair P. Wilson, Miss Robecca Nash, Miss Mackle Young,
Miss Anne Booker, Miss Mai Tabb, Miss Mary Lee, and Miss Elizabeth Brander, of Richmond. The color scheme was red and green and the rooms were handsomely decorated with holy and smillax.
Delightful music was furnished throughout the evening by the Post Band. The assemblage was large and brilliant and marks the opening of the winter fes-

Miss Elizabeth Brander, of Richmond, has been the givest of friends at the post during the week.

Captain and Mrs. Drewry and Miss Agnes Drewry, of Centralia, Va., are among the Virginians at the Chamberlin.

Quite a number of Richmond society people attended the ball given at the Chamberlin on Friday, evening by the army officers of the post.
